

Prince of Songkla University, Phuket Campus Announcement

Subject: Guidelines for Teaching, Learning, Assessment, and Evaluation Management During the Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19) Pandemic Situation for Semester 1/2021

Prince of Songkla University, Phuket Campus recognizes the risks of the new wave of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) epidemic in Thailand and in Phuket; therefore, to prevent and curb the spreading of the infection, we would like to set the guidelines for teaching, learning, assessment, and evaluation management during the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic situation for Semester 1/2021, as follows:

1. Provide hybrid learning by in-class teaching (adhering to the epidemic prevention measures) along with online teaching management or any other integrated teaching and learning management that can measure and assess the learning outcomes according to the objectives specified in the course.

2. Internships, cooperative education, thesis development, and other equivalent activities need to be postponed. Traveling should be avoided unless the Faculty/College considers it as critically necessary such as it may affect the student's graduation or inability to arrange any appropriate alternative activities. In this case, the students need to be notified to strictly comply with the infection control measures or guidelines of the relevant province and the Faculty/College shall coordinate with the related organization to specify the control measures and closely monitor the safety of the students throughout the duration of the student's practice.

3. Ask the lecturers to consider changing the measurement and evaluation format to a more formative assessment throughout the duration of learning in each course, in conjunction with other appropriate and effective forms of measurement and evaluation such as online exams, take-home exams, reflection, evaluation of activities or results, and so on.

4. Adjust the instructional management guidelines, measurements, and evaluation to comply with Phuket Coronavirus Disease Prevention and Control Measures Order 2019.

5. For cases other than those specified in this announcement, a request must be submitted to the Vice President of PSU Phuket Campus for consideration on a case-by-case basis.

This announcement is effective from August 9, 2021 until further notice.

Please be informed and act accordingly.
